WILMINGTON — Donald Trump won the 2016 presidential election, and he also won the vote in Wilmington.

With the early votes and the Nov. 8 votes added together, Donald Trump (R) had a total of 4,208 votes in Wilmington, while his main opponent Hillary Clinton (D) had a total of 3,722 votes for the town.

Gary Johnson had a total of 414 votes and Jill Stein had a total of 87 votes.

For the Governor's Council, Wilmington voted in favor of Richard Baker (R) who had a total of 4,005 votes, while his opponent Eileen Duff (D) had 3,660.

Bruce Tarr (R) ran unopposed for Senator in General Court and received a total of 6,486 votes.

James Miceli (D) was also unopposed for Representative in General Court Nineteenth Middlesex District, and he received 6,059 votes.

Paul Girouard Jr. (R) won Wilmington's vote for Representative in General Court Twenty First Middlesex District which

A vote yes for question number one on gaming would permit the state Gaming Commission to license one additional slot-machine gaming establishment at a location that meets certain conditions. Wilmington had 4,002 yes votes for this question. A no vote would make no change in the current laws. Wil-

Town Veterans Day ceremony marks the occasion

Wilmington designated as Purple Heart community

By Sheryl Walsh
News Correspondent
Sheryl@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON — On Nov. 11, Veterans Day, the town of Wilmington officially becomes a Purple Heart Community. The Purple Heart is a United States military decoration awarded in the name of the President to those wounded while serving with the U.S. military. It is also the nation's oldest military award. The formal announcement will be a key part of this year's Veterans Day Ceremony to be held on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. on the Town Common.

As one of only 1,326 entities nationwide documented with that designation, Wilmington joins the mission to foster an environment of goodwill among the combat wounded veterans and their families, to promote patriotism, and to make sure these service members are not forgotten. As a very visible reminder part of this community effort, reserved parking spaces will now be located throughout the town for those combat wounded veterans.

"I like to do something different every Veterans' Day," says Lou Cimaglia, Veterans Service Officer. He goes on to explain, "Then Meredith Cipriani came forward with this great idea."

He was linked up with her, and together they moved the Purple Heart designation forward.

"She was the person who made it happen," he says. In fact, Cipriani feels so strongly about this that she personally funded the costs associated with the purchase of the reserved parking signs.

The signs will be placed in parking lots at the Town

Boston Metro Hi-Railers Club of Wilmington becoming a 501(c)3

WILMINGTON — The Boston Metro Hi-Railers Club of Wilmington has been located in Wilmington at 5 Waltham St for the past six years.

Officials of the club note: "We intend to remain in our current location, but we have had a tax status changed to 501 c3, which allows us to raise money through gifts and donations that will provide the giver with tax deductions on their annual tax return. Now this doesn't change the way we operate events. We will still be providing periodic Open Houses for families, as we currently do. We will still be providing opportunities for groups like the Bay Scouts, periodic run nights and other events as before."

"However, this new tax status will allow us to solicit donations from businesses and companies and other non profits in Wilmington and other towns in the area, while providing them with a tax deduction for these donations."

Why is this necessary?

"We are anxious to finish up our train layout and we need some financing from outside the club to finish this project. You will notice when you attend Open Houses that a good part of the display remains unfinished. With additional funding, we will have the resources to finish the job more rapidly."

"Also, we are in the process of building mobile display that will allow us to reach out to other facilities and program in the area. We would hope to be able to bring portable layouts to nursing homes, elderly centers, school events, town events in the area, and train events in the Boston area. For instance, we brought a train display to the Town of Wellesley recently. In addition, this summer we brought a display to Bluemont in Northern Virginia. Some people have inquired about using the layout for parties and get together, which is something that the club will discuss soon."

Club officials also point to the fact they have had great newspaper publicity in Reading, Wakefield, Woburn, Stoneham, Winchester, Burlington Lynnfield and Wilmington.

"We have had coverage in other towns and a great article in Toy Trains, the national magazine for train hobbyists," they note. "We reach about 300,000 readers. We hope to be able to increase advertising in other areas in the Greater Boston area and this method of financing will help a great deal."

The club built and donated a layout to Boston Childrens Hospital, with many individual members donating trains and buildings and members constructing the layout which is a permanent interactive display for young patients. The club continues to maintain the display frequently to make sure that it a permanent operating interactive display. This is used by young children in the cardiac unit of the hospital eral statute will be education in purpose. The club hopes, in addition to the actives that they already provide, to speak to local schools about visiting with a display to special needs classes. Professional experts indicate that model trains are a real favorite of children with disabilities. Local nursing homes will be an early priority of this new program.

In addition at the club itself, they will be expanding its current program to teach slightly older children how to develop their own train display.

It will take a few months after The December Open House to finalize all plans.

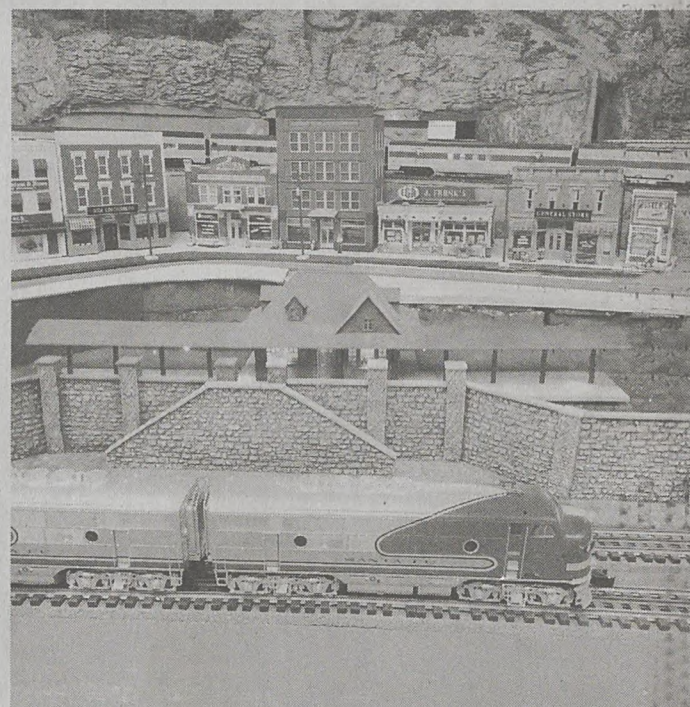

Donors of money and equipment will be provided with the appropriate documentation that can be filed with their yearly tax form.

Club officials will be contacting businesses, clubs and other organizations in the area to seek donations. They will be working through the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. The tax deduction is not included in the nominal entrance fee of $10 for family Open House events. This program is meant for donations, not club activity fees or incidental small fees for open house events.

Companies that do donate will be appropriately recognized at a club recognition layout at the club.

The club will be having their regular Open House on Saturday, Dec. 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fees will remain the same ($10 for families, $5 for singles). The club will have a more detailed online release later in.

Wilmington rotary auction

WILMINGTON — The 36th Annual Wilmington Rotary Club Auction will be held on Friday, Nov. 18 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The doors will open for previewing of items at 6 p.m. and the bidding will begin at 7 p.m.

As always, there will be complimentary food and a cash bar. Over 100 items will be available for purchase, including sports items and game tickets, collectables, a visit from Santa, hand crafted items, holiday baskets and the always popular holiday stockings.

Among the more unique items which are being offered is a Franklin Mint Jackie Kennedy doll collection including 10 Olga Cassini outfits and travel case. Also, they have available a unique Atmospheric Clock, which runs on atmospheric pressure, therefore never needing to be wound or run on batteries and a Big Papi Red Sox Sports bag made from the infield cover canvas. There will be a wine wall for sale and numerous other purchases.

One of the highlights of the evening is the drawing of the winner of the $10,000 raffle. A limited number of tickets are sold with a Grand Prize of $10,000, two second prizes of $1,000 each, two third prizes of $500 each and four fourth prizes of $250 each. Perhaps there might be a few chances available on the night of the Auction

Come and join the rotary for a night of food, fun and bargains. As always, the proceeds for the auction are used towards scholarships for Wilmington graduates.

KEEPING TAX RECORDS — HOW LONG?

Businesses need to keep payroll tax records for at least four years after their employees' income tax deadlines for that particular year. More: keep copies of all the W-4 forms, payroll returns and amounts and dates of tax deposits.

In addition, employers need to keep copies of worker health coverage for at least three years past the deadline for filing the 1094 and 1095 documents reporting employers insurance data.

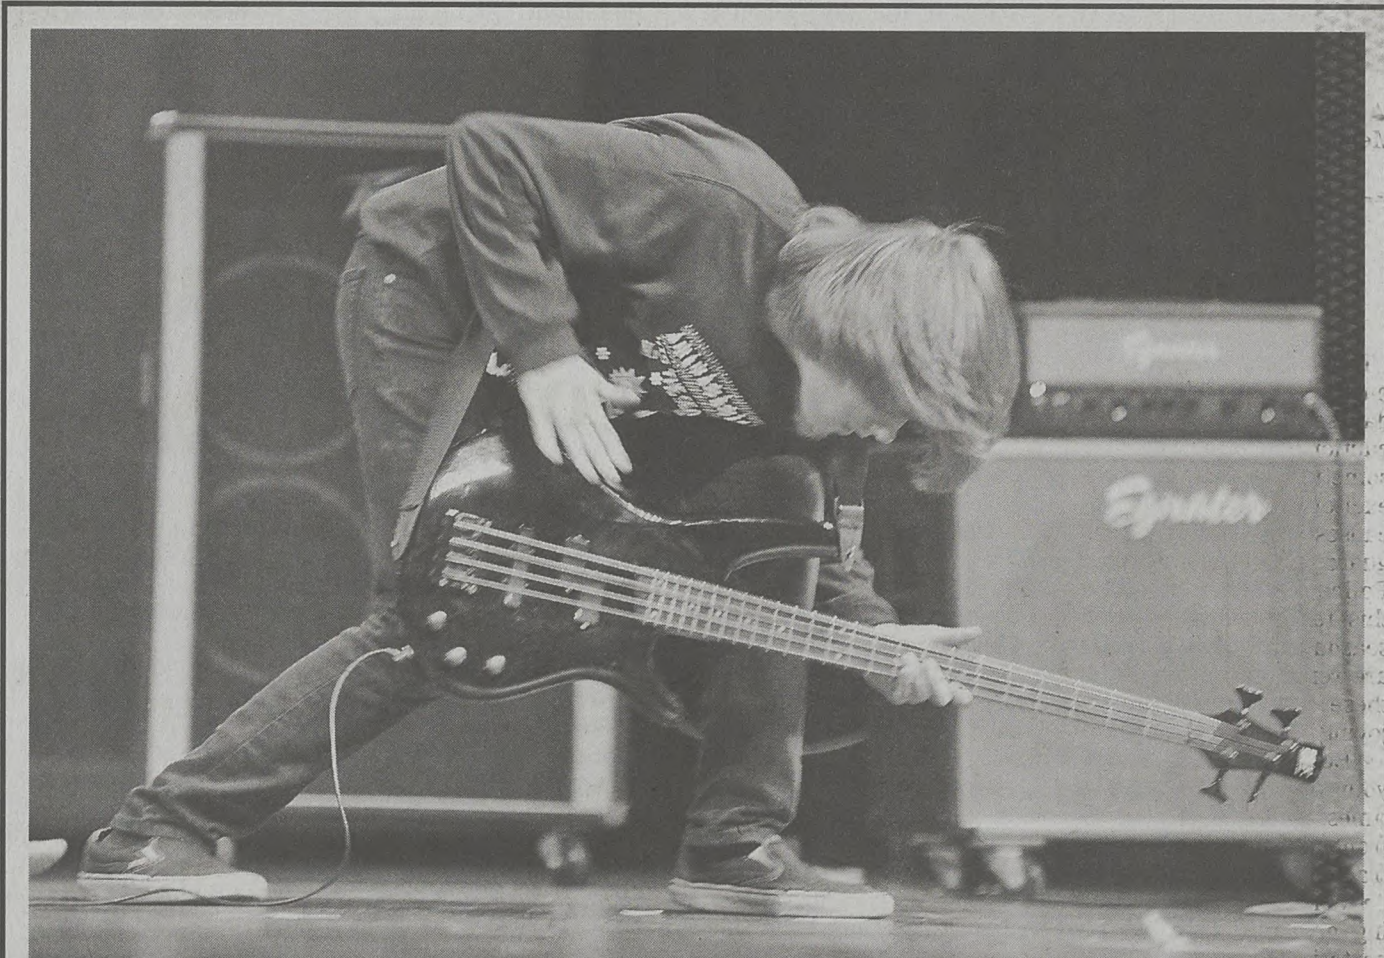

It's a little different for individuals. The IRS generally won't need anything three years older than the tax-filing deadline, but some states have up to four years to initiate an audit. Most experts recommend keeping returns and supporting documents for at least five years. Warning: the IRS has up to six years to snoop around if you've neglected to report more than 25 percent of your income. Also, keep records showing the basis of real estate, stocks and such, plus Form 8606 documenting nondeductible IRAs.

When it comes to tax questions, we've got the answers you need at:

History:

Fred Cain: Milk, it does a campaign good

By LARZ F. NEILSON

Yes, it certainly was an unusual political campaign. No, not the presidential campaign just concluded. I'm talking about the race for state representative in the 34th Middlesex District in 1966.

There were no insults hurled, no charges, no hatred. The most controversial aspect of the race between Rep. Fred Cain and Atty Bob Gordon of Burlington was milk trucks.

In that era, the building inspector tried to enforce a ban on political signs as part of the town's zoning by-law. People living near busy intersections in town would always be asked to put signs in their yards, and other people would complain to the building inspector.

The result of the town's ban on lawn signs was vehicular signs, signs atop station wagons, on the sides of trucks and on utility trailers. Instead of fighting the ban on a First Amendment argument, everyone tried to dodge the sign law by using vehicles.

Fred Cain took that tactic to the limit. The sixties marked the end of the line for milk trucks. In 1966, the Whiting dairy in Charlestown went out of business, leaving a fleet of milk trucks idle. Cain owned an auto dealership that had once sold International trucks, and he may have sold some of the trucks originally. The trucks, branded as Divco, an International Harvester line, were distinctive, with a rounded nose and flap doors.

Cain made them even more distinctive. The fleet became political signs for his re-election campaign. They were so distinctive, in fact, that his opponent even mentioned them in a full-page campaign ad.

"I promise you, none of this!" the ad read. "No milk trucks, garbage scows or abandoned vehicles."

Cain thanked him for the additional publicity.

Other than that, the campaign was one of issues and accomplishments. Gordon ran a series of ads addressing specific points he intended to tackle in the legislature. A Harvard Law grad, he also had a Ph.D. in political science from Syracuse.

Cain ran on his great track record as a freshman representative, 27 bills submitted, 20 passed and 18 signed into law.

Republicans did well that year in Massachusetts. John Volpe was re-elected as governor. Edward Brooke became a U.S. senator, and Ronald Mackenzie, a Burlington Republican, ousted long-time Sen. Jimmy Long of Woburn in the 7th Senate District.

But in the 34th Middlesex, Democrat Fred Cain was the winner with 8,936 votes to 7,821 for Gordon. In Wilmington, Cain drew 3,277 votes to 1,926 for Gordon.

Fred F. Cain was a six-term state representative, serving from 1965 until his death in 1977.

Holiday safety tips

TEWKSBURY — With the hustle and bustle of the holiday season, the safety precautions normally taken are sometimes forgotten, or the excitement of the season causes residents to let their guard down. The Tewksbury Police Department wants this to be a SAFE holiday season for all, so the police are reminding you to follow these safety tips while enjoying the holiday season.

- Be alert and aware of your surroundings at all times. Criminals often confront people who are distracted.
- Whether driving, walking or taking public transportation, plan the trip in advance. Know how to get to your destination by the most direct and safest route.
- Travel on populated, well-lit streets. If possible, travel with a friend.
- Remember to lock your home and your vehicle. When driving, keep your doors locked and the windows closed. Make sure the gas tank is full and maintain your car in good working order to avoid breakdowns.

- When at shopping plazas, park in well-lit areas and have your keys out and ready when you return to your vehicle. Try to minimize the number of valuables left in your vehicle.
- Plan your purchases in advance and carry only the amount of cash needed to make your purchase. If you must carry a large sum of money, divide the cash between your purse, pockets, and wallet.
- Record the numbers for each of the credit cards you own. This will facilitate reporting the theft or loss of the card.
- To keep shipped packages safe, consider these tips from UPS and FedEx:
 - Requesting a signature on your deliveries, especially those of high value, so they are not left unattended. You can also give specific instructions on where to leave a package so it is not left in a visible spot.

- Signing up for an email alert that will notify you when your delivery is set to arrive.
- Choosing an alternative destination — either at work or at a family member's, friend's or neighbor's house where someone will be home to receive the delivery.
- Re-directing packages, even if they're already on their way. Send them to your closest FedEx or UPS office, or another secure location.
- Setting up a vacation hold if you'll be away during the holidays so gifts will not be delivered to an empty house.
- If you arrive home to find your package has been stolen, immediately report it to police.

TMHS get out and VOTE

By JULIA SESSA
News Correspondent

On Tuesday, Nov. 8, high school students who are eligible will cast their vote along with 37 other Americans for the next president of the United States. Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton will come face to face during the most media covered election in the history of the country.

For the first time select seniors at Tewksbury Memorial High School students will use their voice.

Sessa's Corner

"I think it is important for our younger generation to get their insight of the world and how it going to be," stated Josh Tirrell, senior at TMHS. "We are going to be the ones eventually running and living in the country."

Students at TMHS were given the opportunity to register to vote in the Laraby Library at the high school. 50 students registered to vote in this year's election. With this being the first time for students voting, many turned to the Mary Eldringhoff, the school librarian for helpful voting advice.

"First time voters need to be aware of important dates for registering and they need to be aware of where their polling place is and the hours at which the polls are open," said Eldringhoff. "Beyond that I would encourage first time voters to ignore any television ad they ever saw."

Although many students may still be deciding which political party they may fall into, they will definitely gain experience by participating in this year's election.

"Voting at such a young age is so important because we learn what is going on in this world," said Rachel Bradley, senior at TMHS. "We can partake in important things going on and have a say."

Whether you are eligible to vote in this year's election or not, stay communicated and informed. Great job to all TMHS students who took the initiative to vote!

Letter to the editor

Congratulations to the TMHS marching band and color guard

Dear editor,

As a Tewksbury resident and parent, as well as a former marching band member myself, it brought me much joy to learn of the marching unit's job well done. They won a bronze award at the recent MICCA competition. It brought back memories of my time at Wakefield H.S. as a four year member of the marching band. I can empathize with a small group as we started my freshman year with 27 members and old wool uniforms.

It was not the "popular" group to be a part of by any means. We actually had to "go all brass" to gain more sound. By my junior year, we gained many more members, obtained new gleaming uniforms, and actually won a gold medal at MICCA at the old Sullivan Stadium in 1989.

It was a moment I'll never forget. I commend the band director, the 18 members of this unit, as well as the band parents on a job well done.

I know the hard work and time it takes to put on a fantastic show, from playing the music well, memorizing the music, memorizing drill, and marching with pride.

I also attended UMASS Amherst (I was not in the band but enjoyed them at every football game) and was pleased to read that you participated in Band Day at Gillette Stadium. That is such an uplifting day of music, giving the kids something to strive and look up to.

Keep up the good work of making great music, and representing your school and our town so well. Keep having fun and striving for your best. This resident is very proud of your achievement.

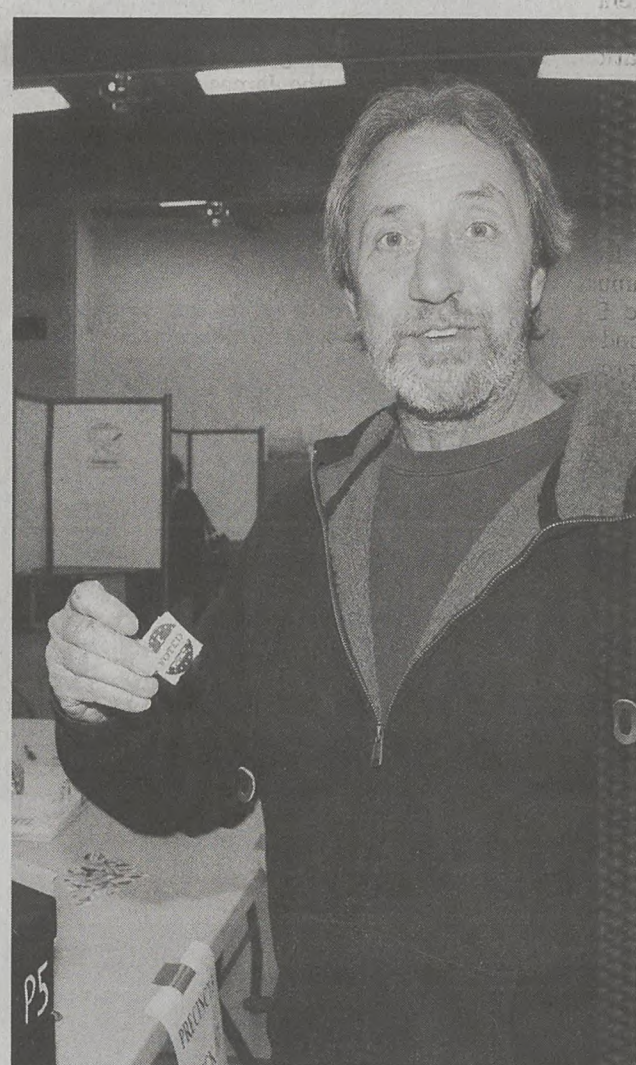

I hope my son will join you in six years!

Thank you,
Jody Avery
Tewksbury, MA

P.S. Next fall, it would be great to have a list of upcoming competitions or performances in the newspaper so that marching band buffs such as myself could come and support you.

I voted and I've got proof!

2016 RMS Jimmy Fund Invitational raises recorded breaking amount of $36,000

NASHUA, NH — Residential Mortgage Services is proud to have once again sponsored their annual RMS Jimmy Fund Invitational at Sky Meadow Country Club in Nashua, NH. This event raised more than $250,000 over the past 10 years for The Jimmy Fund.

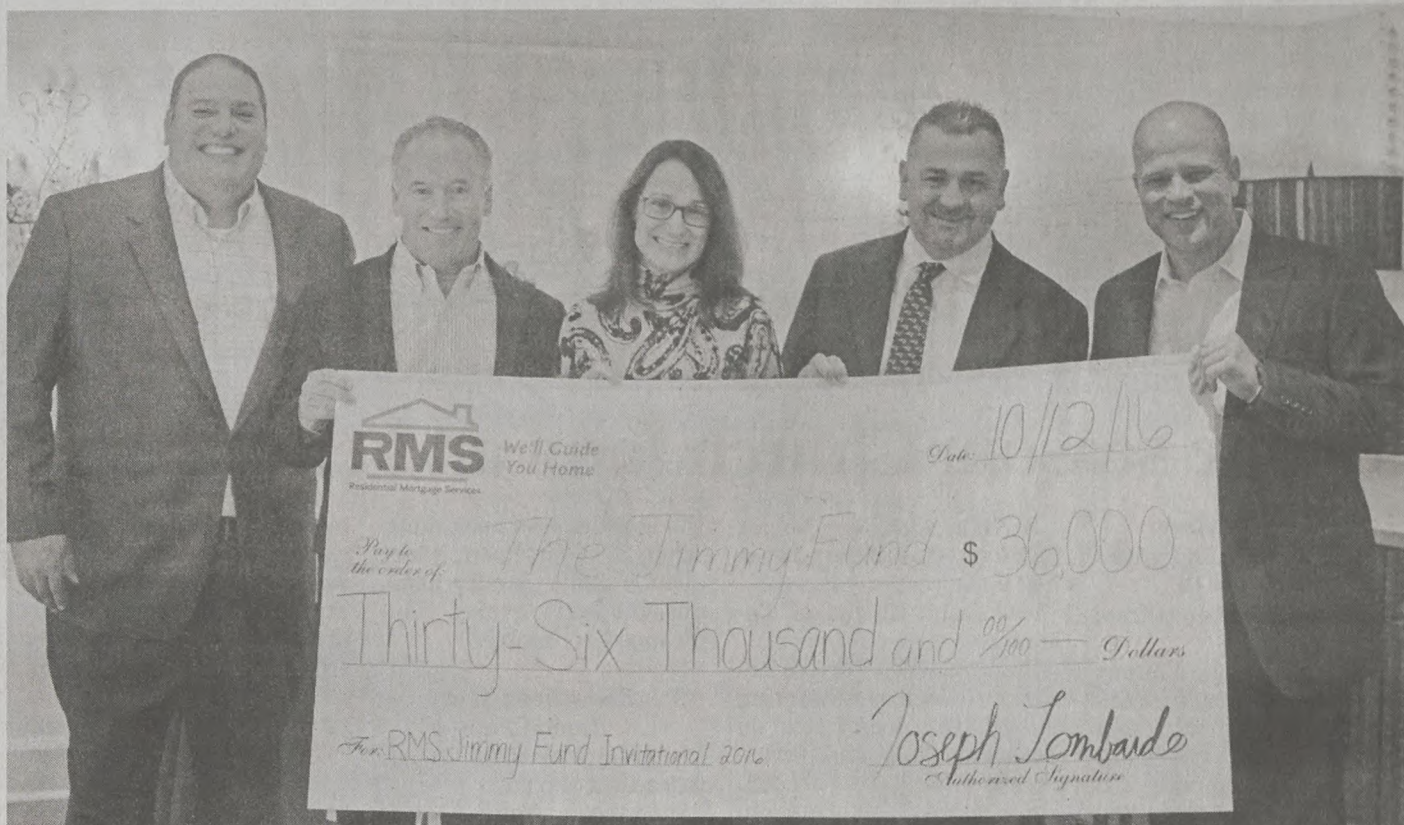

Joe Lombardo, Tournament Founder and Loan Officer in the RMS Woburn branch office, along with Jim Seely, CEO of Residential Mortgage Services, presented a $36,000 check to The Jimmy Fund representative Lisa Scherber, Director of Patient and Family Programs, in Bedford, NH on Wednesday October 12, 2016.

Since its founding in 1948, the Jimmy Fund has raised millions of dollars through thousands of grassroots efforts to help save lives and give hope to cancer patients everywhere. The RMS Jimmy Fund Invitational is a fun way to get companies and people involved with this great cause.

For more information about the Jimmy fund visit their web-site at www.jimmyfund.org.

"The Jimmy Fund has always had a spot in my heart from when I was growing up," said Lombardo, who has been an active supporter of the Jimmy Fund since 2005 and became even more involved after losing his wife to cancer in 2008. "Seeing what some families have to go through with a child or adult fighting cancer makes you think of how good most of us have things and when we get upset at something or a day isn't going the way we want it just look at what the Jimmy Fund patients and family are dealing with."

Reflecting on how this event has grown since starting it, Lombardo stated, "This year marked my 10th Jimmy Fund golf tournament and with the HUGE support of Jim Seely, Mike Ianno, Jim Prieto, John Gaglia, Chris Foote and Jim Finucane of Residential Mortgage Services over the last four years, we've been able to take this event and the funds we raise to a whole new level. This would not have been possible without the organizational support of Jocelyn Collins and Bob Martin, two members of the RMS Marketing Team. The $36,000 we are able to donate to the Jimmy Fund this year is thanks to the many loyal and generous company sponsors, vendor partners, RMS employees and friends who participate in this event. I can't thank everyone enough for all their support."

More About RMS:

Residential Mortgage Services, Inc. (NMLS# 1760) is a leading independent retail mortgage bank based in South Portland, ME. RMS helps homeowners across New England and the Mid-Atlantic meet their home financing needs. The Company is currently the largest "purchase money" lender in the Maine and New Hampshire markets, and is a top five player in the Massachusetts purchase market.

In early 2014 RMS expanded its footprint into the Mid-Atlantic, adding Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, New Jersey and Virginia, and has license applications pending in New York. Through its network of over 60 regional field offices, the professionals at RMS strive to make the "last mile" of home ownership as simple and straightforward as possible.

Thousands of families have relied on the Company's expert advice, broad product selection, and high level of personal attention to achieve their home ownership dreams. In 2015, RMS closed over 15,000 loans with an aggregate value in excess of $3.4 billion.

Reading Coop Bank donates to Woburn Boys & Girls Club

READING — Reading Cooperative Bank recently committed to a 5-year donation of $25,000 to the Building Futures Campaign of the Woburn Boys & Girls Club. The funds will help the club expand and update its current facility in Woburn. In addition to the monetary donation, RCB employees also go to the club to meet with the kids and teach them about savings.

"We are very fortunate to belong to a community where we receive great support from the local business community. Reading Cooperative Bank goes above and beyond for our kids and teens by providing both financial and programmatic support. We are grateful to count Reading Cooperative among our friends and are thankful for their financial contribution to the Building Futures Campaign and their program support in providing crucial financial literacy education to our members." — Julie A. Gage, Executive Director of the James L. McKeown Boys & Girls Club of Woburn.

"The Boys & Girls Club is an integral part of the Woburn community, being a former club kid's member myself, I know the important role this organizations plays in helping the kids. I am happy that we can help them with their expansion project and allow them to grow and better serve the community," said Branch Manager, Danny Walbourne.

The goal of the Boys & Girls Club is to inspire youth to find their greatness by creating strong and healthy relationships. They strive to provide a positive, safe, and fun environment for everyone. The James L. McKeown Boys & Girls Club of Woburn is a non-profit organization serving youth in Woburn and surrounding communities.

RCB utilizes Teach Children to Save (TCTS), a nationally recognized program that organizes bank volunteers to help young people develop savings habits early in life. The program was founded by the American Bankers Association in 1997, and since that time over 145,000 volunteers have taught over 6 million students the importance of saving. If you are interested in learning more about the Teach Children to Save program, or would like to have Reading Cooperative Bank present to your group or organization, please call 781-670-1548 for more details. The Teach Children to Save program curriculum ranges from kindergarten to high school.

About Reading Cooperative Bank

Tewksbury Knight of Columbus
The Shawsheen Parents Advisory Council is sponsoring "A Night with Joey Voices" on November 18 at the Tewksbury K of C. Tickets are $25. For tickets information, please contact Carla.duffy@comcast.net or amymichaud@hotmail.com. This is a fundraiser for the all night graduation party.

Congregational Church Fall Fair
Saturday, November 19 from 9:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.
200 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington
The Congregational Church welcomes you to come and enjoy the fair with a variety of selections including their Church Luncheon Café with hot dogs, nachos, homemade chili and corn chowder, the holiday crafts, their Country Kitchen with famous baked beans and homemade baked goodies, the used book table, White Elephant Room, silent auction items, jewelry items and children's games. Handicapped accessible.

Shawsheen Tech Annual Fair
Saturday, November 19 from 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.
Shawsheen Valley Technical High School is hosting its Ninth Annual Fall Fair. With more than 100 tables, there is certainly something for everyone. Don't miss out on this awesome opportunity to knock off some holiday shopping, or better yet, treat yourself to a gift. In addition to the many crafts, ranging from hand crafted jewelry to bird houses, crochet, and personalized beach towels, there will be a huge bake sale table that you won't be able to resist. Whether you indulge your sweet tooth, take a chance on the new and improved raffle items, or simply enjoy company with family and friends while strolling through the building, this is one fair you don't want to miss. Also, back for its second year is an area especially designed for children, the kids zone, so bring them along for face-painting, manicures, balloon art, pictures with Santa Claus and more! Admission is free, but donations are welcome to support the Orientation Leaders and Shawsheen Valley Technical High School Alumni. Please call Angela Cairra at 978-671-3614 for additional information.

Girl Scouts collecting items for young mothers

TEWKSBURY — Senior Girl Scout Troop 60245 of Tewksbury is collecting toiletries and items for young mothers in the Merrimack Valley as part of a service initiative they perform each year.

The troop will create holiday bags for those served by the Office of Families and Children in the Merrimack Valley (MSPCC Healthy Families), a state agency serving mothers with babies and children ages 0-3 years from Tewksbury, Lowell, Billerica, Chelmsford and beyond. A collection box will be at the Tewksbury Public Library until Nov. 30.

Complete packages of diapers are also welcomed as well as travel sizes. Items needed include shampoo, conditioner, nail polish, disposable razors, hair accessories, hand lotions, lip balm, pocket tissues, emery boards, gum and small cosmetic bags. The girls would like to thank to community for its support.

Help Community Garden at library grow

TEWKSBURY — The Community Garden at the Tewksbury Public Library is run by volunteers who generously give of their time, energy and green thumbs to grow food for the Tewksbury Food Pantry and provide a place for people to garden and teach others.

Stop in to the library and buy a 50/50 raffle ticket to help support the efforts of the garden. The drawing will be held Dec. 17 and the winner need not be present. Half the proceeds will go to the winner and half will go to the garden.

Tickets are $5 each or three tickets for $10. The Community Garden donated several hundred pounds of fresh produce to the Food Pantry this season, and was able to donate money from the proceeds of selling produce at the Tewksbury Farmer's Market.

The garden is sponsored by the Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library.

Festival of Trees on Saturday, Dec. 3

WILMINGTON — It's less than a month away from We're One Wilmington's (WOW) 6th Annual Festival of Trees, which will take place on Saturday, Dec. 3 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 4 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Villanova Hall, 126 Middlesex Ave. in Wilmington.

This free family-friendly event features a raffle of fantastic holiday trees, wreaths and baskets. Pizza, baked goods and refreshments will be available and lots of entertainment is planned throughout the weekend.

They are delighted that several community groups will be on hand at the Festival selling items for their winter fundraisers including: the Wilmington Community Fund with their annual Christmas ornaments, Boy Scouts with holiday wreaths and the Northside PAC with Wildcat gear — just to name a few.

Again this year, the Festival will feature WOW's annual Angel Giving Tree. Children and adults throughout Wilmington decorate ornaments for the tree, which are tagged with holiday gift requests for community members in need. Visitors are invited to take a tagged ornament; purchase the gift items requested, and drop it back to the Festival with the label attached. The gift donor then keeps the Angel ornament as a token of appreciation for their good deed.

Please visit the website <http://www.onewilmington.org/festival-of-trees/> for additional event details.

WOW is still accepting tree, wreath and basket donations for the Festival. All donations are tax-deductible and without them the event would not be such a huge success. Donations needed include:

- Decorated artificial trees, gift baskets or wreaths
- Cases of water, juice, soda or items for the bake sale

Proceeds from this event will be used to purchase holiday gifts for local families in need and to help fund WOW's other good will initiatives throughout the year.

For information about making a donation, please contact Becky McGrath at mcgrathbecky@gmail.com or register your donation using our online form at <http://www.onewilmington.org/festival-of-trees/treebasketwreath-donations/>.

OBITUARY

Barbara A. Mucci-Reardon (Wheeler)

Spent many years as a private caregiver

Barbara A. Mucci-Reardon (Wheeler), age 77, formerly of Wilmington, MA, left this temporary home to be with the Lord in her eternal home in Heaven on October 25, 2016.

Barbara was born in Melrose, MA on July 26, 1939; she was the daughter of the late Clyde and Elsie (Lord) Wheeler.

Barbara was raised and educated in Reading, MA; graduating from Reading High School with the Class of 1957. She went on to continue her education at Lowell Academy Hair-dressing School.

Barbara was known to be a "care giver" to everyone she met; Barbara took classes to become a CNA and graduated top of her class. Barbara worked in several nursing homes throughout the years but she mostly did private in home care; her kindness and compassion towards the elderly always made them feel loved.

Barbara also had a love for taking care of children; her home had an "open door" love for the Lord helped her through many trying times in her life and helped her to find peace.

Barbara was the wife of the late John Mucci, and is survived by her children Cynthia Twombly & husband Brian of Billerica and John Mucci & wife Michelle of Woburn, her grandchildren Courtney Meaney & husband Michael, Kevin Twombly, Matthew Twombly, Emily Mucci, and Great-granddaughter Alison Meaney. She was the sister of Bruce Wheeler, Clyde "Buddy" Wheeler both of Lawrence, Judi Bowen of Tewksbury, Lynette Wheeler of Freemont, NH and Bobby Wheeler of South Boston. Barbara is also survived by several nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers donations in Barbara's memory may be made to St. Jude's Children's Hospital, 262 Danny Thomas Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Nichols Funeral Home, Wilmington, MA.

ACADEMY OF TRADITIONAL KARATE

Teaching life skills since 1989

Fitness and How to Handle a Bully. "A person's ability to become a leader will influence them in a positive manner throughout their entire life," say the Keanes. They believe strongly in mentoring children and adults. Some of the character skills they foster are exceptional behavior at home as well as personal and academic achievement at school. Their Team of instructors work with parents to help provide the extra motivation and encouragement children need to improve at home and in school.

They work with top athletes, and students with disabilities, from age 3 to age 70. They are proud supporters of Autism Speaks, which they just recently held a fundraiser for and raised $3,100.00. Every week, students, young and old, go to the Academy to improve their mind and bodies, to work out and decrease the stress of their daily lives. The key to the Academy's longevity and its loyal following are the students & families. They come from different areas but they all share the same family values and goals. Call today to begin your journey to life long success 978-658-2077. Check them out on the web at: Traditional-Karate.com

The Academy of Traditional Karate is a place where people go to improve themselves – and it has been that way for 27 years. In the fall of 1989 the Academy began as a recreation program in the town of Tewksbury. It has now become one of the single largest traditional martial arts schools in the nation under the watchful eyes of its owners, Todd & Kristen Keane. One visit to their dojo, inconspicuously located on West Street in Wilmington, will impress anyone with its size and professionalism. It includes 2 large state of the art training rooms, LED screens, a spacious reception area with leather seating and Wi-Fi, and a Children's Homework and Play Area for siblings. This is not a macho MMA gym, but rather a family-friendly dojo. Although it is a world-class facility where hundreds of students train, & 300 plus Black Belts have been promoted, the family feel and commitment to empowering students has never wavered.

Todd and Kristen Keane have an amazing approach to teaching Life Skills and Personal Development. Their curriculum helps to foster a person's individuality while teaching them these priceless life skills: Self-Defense, Focus, Self-Discipline, Respect,

Storm Bancroft Castle in Groton

By PAIGE IMPINK
News Correspondent
paige@yourtowncrier.com

While these cooler fall days might tend to focus our energies indoors rather than out, there is no mistaking the importance and invigoration of a good walk in the fresh air. Anyone who has kids knows that it is crucial to get them outside and running around, a task that is increasingly made more difficult with the return of Tom Brady. To that end, the lure of the exploration of a castle was an easy sell since castles aren't so readily available to offer as a destination in our neck of the woods.

Enter Bancroft Castle in Groton. Set upon a hill overlooking the grounds of Gibbet Hill Angus Farm, the structure rises above Route 40, an easy ride just off of Route 3. Parking is available in a grassy lot across the street from the remains of the stone pillars marking the entrance to the property. Purchased by the Webber family of Groton, owners of a local restaurant group, the castle and grounds are part of a 500 acre conservation area, including a black angus cattle farm, gardens, and rolling hills with views of Groton and Mount Wachusett.

According to the Gibbet Hill website, the castle was built in 1906 by General William Bancroft for his family. Bancroft was a Groton native who became head of the Boston Elevated Railroad and Mayor of Cambridge. The castle was to be his a retirement home, named Shawfieldmont, at the crest of Gibbet Hill. Originally a modest bungalow, he planned to add a castle-like mansion but ran out of money.

After selling the property, it sustained several iterations in the years that followed, including a sanitarium and a hunt club before burning down in 1932. The property was at risk of being developed into 78 homes when Webber, also a tech entrepreneur, bought the property in 2000 and put it into permanent conservation. The castle is extremely popular with portrait photographers. The views of the castle and of the New England landscape from the hilltop are exceptional.

The property is also part of the Groton Trails Network. The Gibbet Hill trail has a steep hill to get up to the castle and is marked with green and white trail markers or blazes. This trail system covers over 100 miles of trails in Groton and is one of the most extensive in the state, though this piece is fairly short.

Bring your camera and even a picnic and enjoy a few hours at Bancroft Castle. Special note: there are letterboxes and a poketop at this park.

Tewksbury Police Log

Lawrence man arrested for assault and battery

Monday, October 31

4:40 a.m. - The front desk clerk at Holiday Inn was receiving threatening phone calls from an out of area phone number. Police filed a report.

5:11 a.m. - A car alarm went off at Halstead Garden Apartments for 10 minutes. The alarm was no longer going off once the police arrived.

10:13 a.m. - A suspicious male was looking into windows at Apache Way. The party in question is a contractor working on one of the units.

2:29 p.m. - A male party acted strange in the bar at Longhorn Steakhouse. The party was spoken to and he left the area.

7:38 p.m. - Someone shot a paintball through the window into a house at McCarthy Way. Police were sent and filed a report.

Tuesday, November 1

9:26 a.m. - Taylor Hall, 26 of 51 Four Wings Dr. in Pembroke, was arrested and charged with operation of motor vehicle with license suspended, failure to stop/yield, and a warrant for operation of motor vehicle with license suspended.

4:56 p.m. - Police sent at Forest Avenue and Woburn

Street to check on two teenagers trick or treating. The teens could not be located.

Wednesday, November 2

9:01 a.m. - A female party was a victim of a scam at Leicester Street. She had to leave and will come back later. The female did not come back to speak with the officer.

10 a.m. - A white male party was standing in his neighbor's driveway at Summer Street, unknown to him. The caller approached party who stated that he was just waiting for his boss to pick him up. Moments later, a white vehicle with a New Hampshire plate pulled up and picked him up. The police notified the owner of house who said he was having contractor's coming to house today. He was going to make calls to contractor to make sure it was him.

1:34 p.m. - Lawrence Police Department requested assistance with making a warrant arrest for a male party at World Wide Tech. Jose Jaquez, 46, was arrested and charged with a warrant for assault and battery on a family member/courtesy booking.

Thursday, November 3

5:14 a.m. - Police stopped at Commercial Comfort Service for RO showing suspended license. Sean Whealan, 51 of 940 Main St. in Tewksbury, was arrested and charged with operation of motor vehicle with license suspended, attaching plates, and unregistered motor vehicle.

6:41 a.m. - An erratic vehicle driving into Tewksbury on Woburn Street. The police report that the vehicle was gone on arrival.

Friday, November 4

2:11 a.m. - A citizen stated a male party in a U-haul appears to be asleep in the vehicle at Circle K. The police were unable to wake the party up and requested ambulance. Matthew Giordano, 32 of 6 Lilac Road in Billerica, was arrested and charged with operation of motor vehicle with license revoked, negligent operation of motor vehicle, and operation of motor vehicle with license suspended for OUI.

5:53 a.m. - A suspicious male was at Wal-Mart. He was walking around the parking lot, looking into vehicles and took an item from a truck. The male party checks out; the vehicle he went into was his own and he was at location every morning.

Saturday, November 5

1:11 a.m. - An unwanted male party had returned to Cobleigh Drive. There was no argument and the male left prior to arrival.

2:21 a.m. - Police stopped at Main Street and Route 495 for defective equipment. Elyenis Berrios, 20 of 130 John St. in Lowell, was arrested and charged with a warrant for assault and battery household member, miscellaneous motor vehicle equipment violation, and possession class B drugs.

3:15 a.m. - The caller's neighbor had been playing music loudly for the last few hours at Ames Hill Drive. The police spoke with the resident and the music was then off.

5:56 a.m. - The caller heard a scream outside of Shawsheen Street. She saw a group of people and several vehicles in the area. It had appeared to be an animal call. The different car struck a dog. The owner of the dog was bringing it to the vet.

Sunday, November 6

12:54 a.m. - Five intoxicated male parties were leaving at TJ Callahan in a black station wagon with a Maine license plate. Police spoke with the caller and checked the area.

12:57 a.m. - Possible argument in the area of Motel 6. The police checked the area, but the parties were gone on arrival. Then, the police found the parties involved. It was said to be a verbal argument only.

1:03 a.m. - The caller was unhappy that he was being charged a bill for smoking at Holiday Inn. He does not smoke. The party has left and will discuss the bill in the morning with the manager.

1:17 a.m. - Multiple noise complaints and an argument were heard at Motel 6. The police could not locate the argument but the noise complaints were addressed.

2:41 a.m. - Police were out at Circle K. Kevin Lutz Jr. of 50 Nolan CT in Tewksbury was arrested and charged with courtesy booking.

Thursday, November 3:

8:38 a.m.: A Harold Avenue resident reported that paint balls were shot at her house overnight.

1:38 p.m.: Animal Control located a loose beagle which had been reported to be on Lowell Street on Textron Field. Animal Control retrieved the dog and, seeing that it belonged to a house on Parker Street, returned it to its owner.

2:05 p.m.: A paving company vehicle hit two mailboxes on Park Street. The driver told the Park Street resident who called police that he would pay for the damage and gave her a business card.

2:27 p.m.: A rabbit stuck in a fence on Marjorie Road had to be freed by Animal Control. Seeing that the rabbit was in bad shape, Animal Control brought it to Tewksbury for medical care.

3:50 p.m.: A minor motor vehicle collision involving a Toyota Avalon and a Nissan Murano occurred at the intersection of Concord Street and I-93 northbound Ramp 38. No one was injured in the collision.

Friday, November 4:

5:30 p.m.: The pole on a railroad gate was taken down in a car accident by the corner of Main Street and Middlesex Avenue. Keolis was notified and fixed the gate after determining that the next train would come through at 6:25.

Saturday, November 5:

5:23 a.m.: A car drove off I-93 into the woods prior to Exit 40. The Fire Department transported the driver after the incident.

6:08 a.m.: The arms of the railroad gate by the intersection of Main Street and Middlesex Avenue that had been damaged the previous day got stuck halfway down with the bells sounding and the lights flashing but no train going by. The same problem also occurred at the same time on Glen Road. Keolis responded to the issue.

8:54 a.m.: A minor motor vehicle collision occurred at the intersection of Middlesex Avenue and Route 62 involving a Toyota Corolla and a Subaru Forester. No one was injured in the collision.

10:18 a.m.: A minor motor vehicle collision involving a Toyota Matrix and a Honda Odyssey occurred at the intersection of Salem Street and Cunningham Street.

2:54 p.m.: A Sonic employee reported being threatened by a man with red hair in a gray Honda sedan. The employee told police that the unknown man was upset over not getting a Doctor Pepper and he said he would return with a shotgun. The employee was threatened over the intercom system in the drive through.

Sunday, November 6:

2:23 p.m.: A Ford Focus struck a guardrail on Chestnut Street. No one was injured in the collision.

3:45 p.m.: A Florinda Road resident found a lost pug puppy and kept it with him until Animal Control could be contacted. The dog was later returned to its owner.

Wilmington Police Log

Car drove off I-93 into the woods prior to Exit 40

Monday, October 31:

2:42 a.m.: A broken ceramic toilet was seen in the road on Route 125. Mass Highway was notified.

9:29 a.m.: Two dogs were loose on Brattle Street and Mass Avenue. The owner of the first dog, a shepherd from a house on Mass Avenue, was issued a citation for the unleashed and unlicensed dog. The owner of the second dog, which lives in a house on River Street, was issued a warning and took both dogs into his house until the owner of the shepherd could return home.

Tuesday, November 1:

2:43 p.m.: A Saturn Outlook was traveling northbound, going all over the roadway and driving in the wrong lane. The vehicle pulled into Cumberland Farms near the air pump, and there the driver was taken into the police station for a breathalyzer test, which she failed, and to arrange a ride.

Wednesday, November 2:

11:48 a.m.: A motor vehicle collision occurred at the intersection of Main Street and Glen Rd. involving a Toyota Camry and a Jeep Grand Cherokee. The Fire Department was called in to assist with any injuries, but cancelled when no injuries were reported.

3:57 p.m.: A mother walked into the police station to report that her son had been assaulted at Ristuccia Arena.

4:13 p.m.: A woman reported to police that when she left her car at Meineke, she left her medication, a narcotic, in the car, and when she came back for her car, the medication was missing.

READING — Find a treasure or start your Christmas shopping at the St. Athanasius Christmas Faire, Friday, Nov. 18, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 19, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. St. Athanasius Parish is located at 300 Haverhill St., Reading.

Treasures are waiting to be found at the always popular White Elephant Room and Jewelry Treasures. The New England Country & Crafts store and new Snowflake Boutique will have an array of homemade candy, jams, cookbooks, plus gift and decorating ideas for the Christmas season. Look for one-of-a-kind handmade knit and crochet items for that special one-of-a-kind gift.

Kids will be equally thrilled to find a gently used toy at the North Pole Toy Shoppe. There will be crafts and games for children to play.

"Selfie with Santa" is back! Santa will be taking a break from his busy schedule at the North Pole and visiting the Faire on Saturday, Nov. 20 from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Don't forget to bring your camera to take a picture with Santa!

Brick Oven pizza highlights Friday Night's Food Café. And our popular Clam Chowder will be back — come early as it an early sell-out. Come enjoy all our great food and homemade baked goods as you shop for great bargains and beautiful gifts.

And if you like games of chance take a chance on the silent auction items, gift baskets and Cash Prize Raffle — first prize is $500. There is something for everyone!

The Christmas Faire has been a strong standing tradition for the St. Athanasius community for over 25 years. The Faire has grown over the years and now covers two buildings and has 13 areas offering everything from shopping to eating to playing.

Monies raised over the year's has gone toward parish work and outreach and to build fellowship and community. And any left over items at the end of the Faire are donated to charities such as Mission of Deeds and Good Will.

Please visit the website for more information on the Christmas Faire or if you are interested in donating: www.stathanasius-reading.org

Dive into Book Stew on WCTV

In the November episode of Book Stew, Host/Producer Eileen MacDougall (left) interviews local author Michelle Hoover, who appeared at the Wilmington Memorial Library at the Summer Author Series. Both of Michelle's novels, about farm families in the Midwest, have garnered enormous critical acclaim. But it wasn't easy — the author confesses that she sent her first book effort off to publishers without even knowing how to write a novel! To learn more about how this talented writer became a success, please check out the new episode on WCTV on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. Wednesdays at 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. and Thursdays at 7 p.m. To watch online, a link to the October program can be found at <http://www.wctv.org/Book-Stew>.

Drug charges dismissed against owner of Atamian VW-Honda of Tewksbury TEWKSBURY — Drug charges were dismissed against Reed "Terry" Atamian, the owner and president of Atamian VW-Honda of Tewksbury.

According to a story that appeared in the Lowell Sun Online, Falmouth police Capt. Edward Dunne said the 47-year-old Atamian, who maintains dual residences in Tewksbury and Woods Hole, was charged with possession with intent to distribute $5,000 worth of illegal drugs that a team of various law-enforcement agencies found in a search of Atamian's houseboat in Great Harbor.

Dunne said Falmouth police, assisted by the U.S. Coast Guard officials, the Barnstable County Sheriff's Office, Department of Natural Resources and Falmouth Harbor Master, discovered cocaine, marijuana, ecstasy and dozens of other pills and designer drugs on Atamian's boat, including Oxycodone, Levitra and ambien.

Atamian turned himself in at the Falmouth police station on Tuesday after learning that an arrest warrant for him had been issued.

He was arraigned in Falmouth District Court the same day and pleaded not guilty to the following charges: possession with intent to distribute a class B substance (cocaine); five counts of possession of a class B substance (cocaine, Oxycodone, ecstasy); possession with intent to distribute a class D substance (marijuana); nine counts of possession of a class E substance (Levitra, alprazolam, rozerem, Ambien); and five counts of possession of a class C substance (hydrocodone, valium).

Wilmington votes no on Questions 1 and 2, yes on 3 and 4

Wilmington mostly voted no with 4,425 votes.

This question did not pass statewide with 61 percent of the state's voters choosing no.

A yes vote for question two on charter school expansions would allow for up to 12 new approvals each year of new charter schools or expanded enrollments in those that already exist, but they are not to exceed one percent of the statewide public school enrollment. Wilmington had 2,886 yes votes for this question. A no vote would make no changes in the current laws. Wilmington mostly voted no with 5,719 votes.

This question did not pass statewide with 62 percent of the state's voters choosing no.

Massachusetts voters also approved ballot questions three and four on Monday, Nov. 8, which prohibits certain methods of containment for farm animals and legalizes marijuana, respectively. The ban of some containment methods for farm animals will take effect Jan. 1, 2022. The legalization of marijuana for recreational use will take effect Dec. 15, 2016, according to Secretary of the Commonwealth William Galvin's website.

In Wilmington, 75 percent of voters supported Question 3, while 22 percent rejected it, according to unofficial results from Town Clerk Sharon George. Military and overseas voters have 10 days to submit their absentee ballots, so George's office will not have official results until then, according to Graffeo.

Wilmington voters approved the legalization of marijuana for recreational use, with 49.7 percent in favor of and 49 percent against the measure, according to George.

7,922 of Wilmington's registered voters participated in this election, according to Graffeo.

These results are unofficial and do not include those who voted early.

Wilmington votes mostly Republican includes precinct three in Wilmington with 624 votes, while his opponent Kenneth Gordon (D) had 489.

Gordon, however, retains his seat receiving 59 percent of the total vote in Burlington and Billerica.

The Sheriff position was also unopposed and Peter Koutoujian received 6,109 votes.

The race was close for all of the positions that had opposition, but Wilmington generally voted in favor of the Republicans who were running in this year's race.

This definitely beats taking the bus

Wilmington becomes Purple Heart community on Veterans Day

Hall, Silver Lake, and the Veterans Service Office. Cimaglia has reached out to other venues and hopes to expand the program. Cipriani first saw a Purple Heart reserved sign in Nashua, NH.

"I think this is such a great way to show respect and appreciation for the sacrifice many men and women make to protect us," she explains. James Banda is one of the Wilmington's Purple Heart Heroes who will be recognized through this town program. Banda earned his Purple Heart when he was severely wounded in World War II on Oct. 9, 1944. The Germans bombed his foxhole. Both his legs were badly injured. He spent four years in the hospital while they rebuilt and rehabbed his legs with 1940s medicine and technology. He would walk with braces the rest of his life. One leg has no knee; the bones are fused. The other has a repaired but still significantly impacted lower leg.

Banda was 20 years old when he began his military service and very soon after completing training, he was sent to Europe as part of the invasion of Normandy. He was an Army Infantry Private with Patton's 2nd Armor Division and a proud member of the "Hell on Wheels" unit. "We couldn't go forward until the beach was secured," he explains. He says the men who did that mission were the real heroes. But as he moved with his unit through Europe, time would prove he was a hero for sure.

"Running along the tanks to protect them, that was my job," he says. When one of the tanks was hit, Banda remembered that the tanks had trap doors on the bottom. He crawled under the tank and through the door to pull the crew out of the burning armored vehicle. For this heroic and lifesaving action, he was awarded the Bronze Star. Banda certainly deserves the recognition and special treatment of the Purple Heart Community designation and reserved parking spaces.

The parking signs will be in place this week preceding Veterans Day and the formal announcement. Veterans Day is celebrated every November 11th, and ceremonies are held at 11 a.m. That's because Veterans Day marks the day when fighting in WWI stopped. It was established by Congress in 1958 and was first called Armistice Day.

This holiday does not move to a Monday for a 3-day weekend. Veterans Day is always November 11th. On that day in 1918, fighting in WWI, the "war to end all wars," ended with the signing of an armistice (a cease fire that went into effect the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month).

► James Banda (shown here with his shadow box of military insignia and honors) is one of the Wilmington's Purple Heart Heroes recognized through Wilmington's designation as a Purple Heart Community. Banda earned his Purple Heart when he was severely wounded in World War II in 1944. He also earned a Bronze Star for bravery.

MVP Howland and Spinos help lift Worcester State to MASCAC title

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
Led by a pair of Wilmington residents, junior forward Ashleigh Howland, and freshman defender Christina Spinos, the Worcester State University women's soccer team was crowned the Massachusetts State Collegiate Athletic Conference (MASCAC) tournament champions on Sunday afternoon as the No. 1 seed Lancers downed No. 3 seed Bridgewater State in a thriller by the score of 2-1.

Howland was named tournament MVP after scoring the game winner with five minutes left in the game to deliver the title to Worcester State.

Howland has scored plenty of big goals for the Lancers both this season and throughout her career, but there have been none bigger than Sunday's tournament winner.

"At the time of the goal everyone was exhausted and frustrated being tied 1-1. I received a pass from my teammate Nikki DiPilla and I saw an opening between Bridgewater's center backs and I took a touch forward and to the right of one of their defenders where I dribbled forward and shot the ball to the right corner of the net," Howland said. "It was one of the best moments of my soccer career, being able to help bring my team to a victory over one of our toughest rivals (Bridgewater). Being able to score a goal during a big moment like that game is an awesome feeling."

The Lancers earned their seventh-ever MASCAC tournament championship as their most recent was in 2014 when they defeated Westfield State 1-0.

With the win over Bridgewater State, the Lancers (9-6-2) earned an automatic bid in the NCAA Regionals, where they will take on undefeated (18-0-0) William Smith College on Saturday in New York.

"Advancing onto NCAA's for my second time is an amazing feeling, however, more so now being a junior and only having one season left," Howland said. "I'm excited to see how we will do this weekend against William Smith College"

After an uneventful first half on Sunday, the Lancers capitalized on a free kick opportunity in the 47th minute when senior defender, Nicole Parenteau arched the ball into the goal box. Jenna Martin picked up the open ball after it deflected of Bridgewater's keeper, and pushed it into the net for the 1-0 lead.

Pair of Pop Warner teams defeated in playoffs

By BRENDAN FOLEY

brendanmfoley@outlook.com
WILMINGTON- Two of Wilmington's Pop Warner teams saw their post-season bids end in the first round on Sunday. The Wilmington B team was defeated by Reading 33-12, while the Wilmington C team fell to Chelmsford 50-30.

For the C team, which finished the regular season 5-3, they had a steep uphill battle against the 8-0 Chelmsford. Head coach Joe McCauley can point to one specific factor in their defeat: a running back that they simply could not stump.

"We game-planned for him all week and he just got the better of us," McCauley said. "I think he got all 50 of their points."

McCauley pointed to some of his own team's mistakes as being other costly factor, including getting the ball to the one yard line twice and turning it over.

"We were in the running, but a couple mental mistakes and that's all it took for them to take advantage of it."

There were highlights for the Wildcats. Quarterback Joseph McCauley threw for two touchdowns to Jake Roque and Andrea Turner. Roque and Turner also picked up another touchdown each.

Jared Bishop and Nate Keohan were big defensive producers for the team.

"They really tried to stop their number one guy," McCauley said. "They made a lot of stops."

Everyone gave it their all including Mark Donovan, Derek Maguire, Luke Vitale, William O'Shea, Mason Glover, Benjamin Andrus, Andre Turner, Joey Kullman, Peter Leblanc, Ryan Laroche, Patrick Stokes, Jonathan Diplatzi,

Wildcats eliminated by Ipswich in Division 2 North quarterfinal round

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

jamiepote@hotmail.com
IPSWICH - After coming away with a dramatic overtime victory in the first round of the state tournament for the second straight year, the Wilmington High School Field Hockey team then were ousted from the playoffs in the next round.

On Friday afternoon, the Wildcats came out very slow in the first 15-20 minutes and saw Ipswich net two goals. Over the last 40-45 minutes, the Wildcats completely dominated, including cutting the deficit in half but they just couldn't get a second one to the back of the net. That was the difference as No. 3 seed Ipswich came away with the 2-1 win over No. 11 Wilmington.

"After (the first 20 minutes) I thought we dominated," said head coach Leanne Ebert. "I said that to the girls at halftime, that it took them a little while to warm up so now that you got it, let's make something happen. Unfortunately we couldn't score again, but I thought we dominated the second half. I think it was the opposite of our game the other night. Lynnfield dominated and we won and today for most of the game, I feel that we dominated and Ipswich won. That's going to happen sometimes."

Wilmington came away with an upset 2-1 win over the No. 4 seed Lynnfield in the opener as junior Taeya Peroni scored both goals, the second coming with 2.3 seconds left in the 7-vs-7 OT period, while goalie Rose Cuozzo made 27 saves including one on a penalty stroke.

In the playoff match-up, Cuozzo this time made nine saves, including one on another penalty stroke. Early on she was tested a lot, while Ipswich was able to score two goals - the first ricocheted off a Wilmington defender's stick and in, and the second was a rocket shot off senior McKinley Karpa's stick. She was an outstanding player with tremendous stick skills and Wilmington senior Katie Colombo had the tough task of defending her.

"There was just that one time Katie stepped off from her, (allowing space) and the girl capitalized on it (scoring that goal)," said Ebert. "That was the only time and I thought Katie did an outstanding job of shutting her down."

Trailing 2-0, Jill Miele and Peroni started to heat up and were causing lots of havoc in the Tigers' end including three straight corners. With under three minutes to go in the half, Wilmington was awarded its sixth corner. Molly Foley took it and sent pass out to Sammi L'Esperance, who returned the favor giving the ball back to Foley. She then sent a pass to the front of the net and in a huge scramble, eventually Miele poked home a loose ball making it 2-1 with 2:16 left in the half.

Cuozzo made two huge saves in the early stages of the second half and then with 14:09 left in the game, Ipswich was awarded a penalty stroke after the ball was covered up in the crease. Karpa took it and tried to her top right corner but Cuozzo came flying across and was able to get a blocker on it for the huge save.

"I have no fear whenever teams take a penalty stroke on Rose," said Ebert. "I'm like 'ah this is nothing, she's got this' and now she's saved a stroke in each of our tournament games. I have no fear at that point and knew she would save it. I just thought offensively, we missed a couple of opportunities to score and we just didn't seem to be in the right place at the right time."

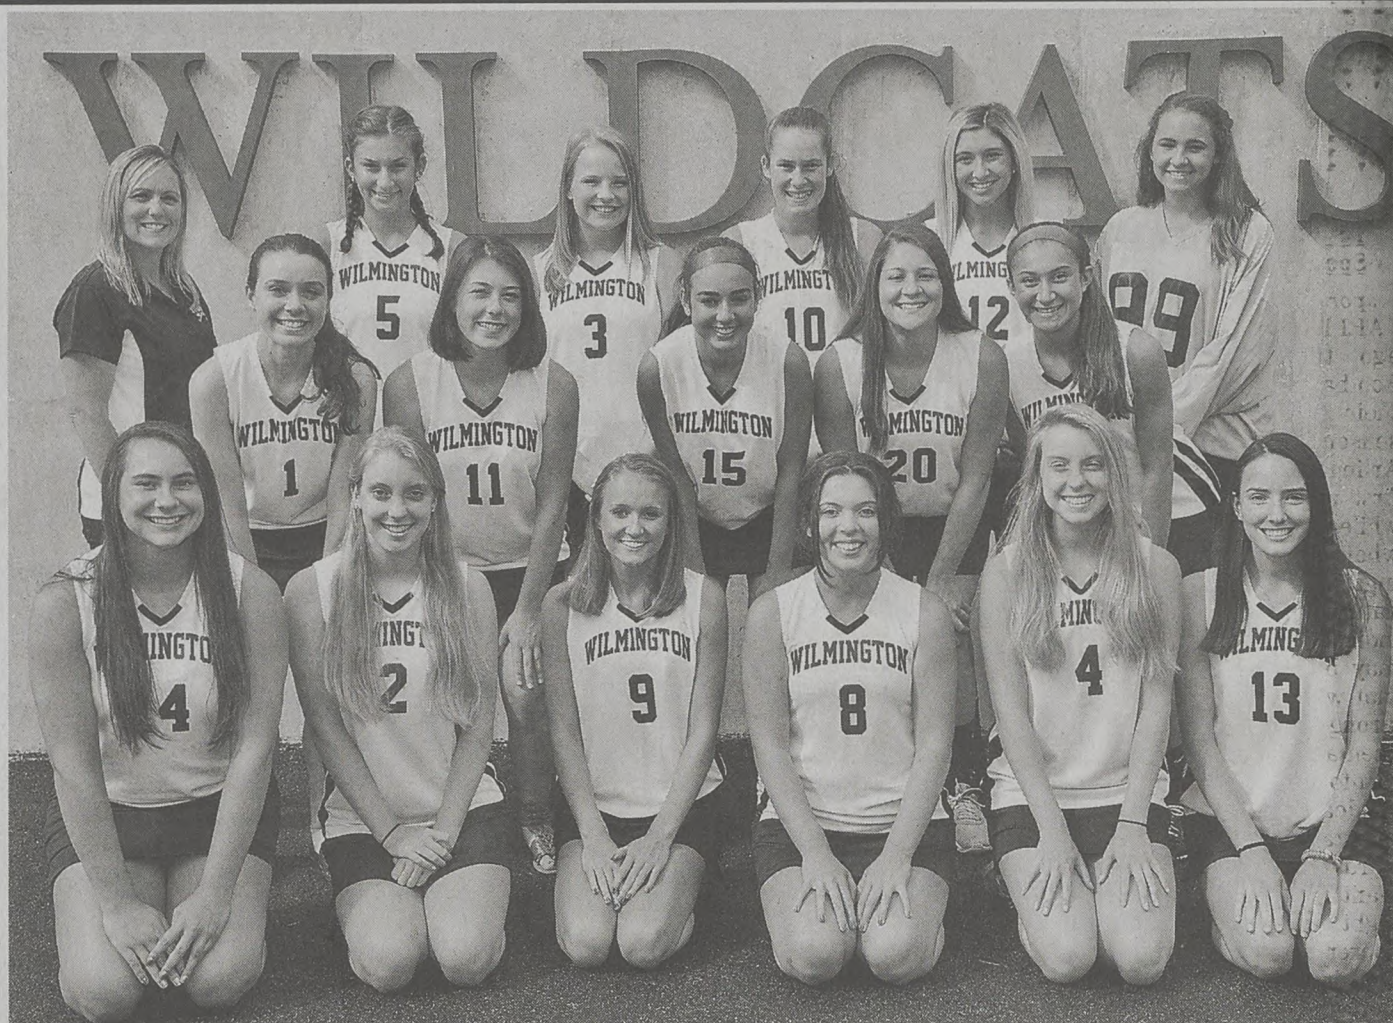

Wilmington had two more corners in the final ten minutes and Peroni also had a strong bid as her shot from far out was kicked out as Ipswich would go on to win. Ebert said finishing with an 10-8-2 record and making it to the state tournament for the fifth straight season was a successful season.

"We had a few inconsistencies this season but the entire group of girls were great to be around," she said. "They all got along, they genuinely like one another which is nice. The seniors are a great group and they as a group really blossomed as this season progressed. The Colombos (Samantha and Katie) have come along way and they have played every position except goal. They do it and they don't ask questions. They just go out on the field and do what they are supposed to do."

"Jocelyn (Sullivan) has been an awesome captain and has been loud in the back. Christina (Wright) took on a new position as a forward. She's been consistent and has been a great role model. Haley (DiLorenzo) has been a force in the back as well. Those girls have been great and will certainly be missed."

Those five players ended their careers, but next year the team returns a lot of experience especially with Cuozzo, Miele, Peroni, Lauren D'Angelo, Danielle Silva and a host of others.

"We will have a strong nucleus of players coming back and we'll be looking forward to that next year. We'll have a lot of veterans," she said.

Sports Editor

jamiepote@hotmail.com
Last year, Taeya Peroni was a sophomore and a member of the Wilmington High School JV Field Hockey team. When the varsity team played in the state tournament, she elected to help out at the scorer's table. She watched her older sister Alexa score the game tying goal and set up the game winner in the team's 2-1 dramatic first round win over Wayland, and then Taeya cheered from the table when the Wildcats were defeated by eventual state champion Watertown, 2-0, in the quarterfinal round.

Almost exactly a year later, Taeya was no longer on the JV team and no longer helping out at the scorer's table. In fact, last Wednesday afternoon, it was easy for the new volunteers to mark down the booklet: both Wilmington's goals went to No. 6, Miss Taeya Peroni.

The junior scored her second goal of the game coming with 2.3 seconds left in overtime to lift the WHS Varsity Field Hockey team to a huge upset 2-1 overtime victory over No. 4 seed Lynnfield in the first round of the Division 2 North sectional tournament.

She was asked if she thought a year ago while at the table watching the 'Cats fall to the Red Raiders, if she thought she would be the hero in the team's next state tournament game, an entire year later.

Last Wednesday night, WHS junior Taeya Peroni celebrated as she scored on this goal with 2.3 seconds left in overtime to lift the Wildcats past Lynnfield, 2-1, in the first round of the state tournament. (courtesy photo).

"I didn't think so. I was very shocked," she said with a laugh.

Through the first eleven games this season, Peroni didn't score a goal. But in the last seven regular season games she scored six which ranked her second on the team. She made it numbers 7 and 8 last Wednesday. "On the first goal) Jill (Miele) was bringing the ball up on the left wing and she passed it across (to the center of the net)," described Taeya. "I took it and I dodged two girls and I got to the right side of the goal post and I hit it across the opposite side and it went in."

That goal eventually forced Wilmington and Lynnfield to go into a 7-on-7, 10-minute overtime period. With seconds bing counted down, Peroni was able to find some open space and instantly became the game's hero.

"I got the pass and the ball was right up front of the goalie," she explained. "She came out so far and I was able to dodge (and get around) her, and then tap the ball in (to the empty net). You can see in the picture (posted on social media) that even before the ball was rolling in, I had my arms in the air (knowing it was a goal). I was excited about it."

Indeed she should have been. After all the goal came with 2.3 seconds left on the clock. Yes, 2.3.

"It was awesome and to be honest I really didn't how to feel. I wanted to cry, but I was really happy and I wasn't sure what to do," she said with a big laugh.

Head coach Leanne Ebert said during the first half of the season that she was waiting for Peroni to explode and help out offensively. After watching the junior net eight goals in her last eight games, certainly you can expect bigger and better things next year.

"I think the experience has helped me," said Peroni. "I was really nervous at the beginning of the season. I didn't know what to expect. I was on JV last year and it's a completely different game than JV so I just had to get used to playing varsity and I finally was able to put the jets on."

Added Ebert, "Taeya has come a long way. With her it was a matter of her stick ability had to catch up to her speed and her body. She has done a nice job of learning herself and how to provide a spark. She is just so fast."

The Bears knotted the score at 1-1 in the 61st minute on a 45-yard direct kick. Bridgewater's Molly Shield soared the ball in the air, slipping into the top center of the net over Worcester State's keeper's head. This was the first goal of the season that Vanessa O'Donnell let up against conference opponents.

Bridgewater looked as if they were going to take the lead in the 76th minute when Taylor Loyd drifted a ball in the air from the left corner. Unfortunately for the Bears, it hit off the right post and Worcester State's defenders cleared the ball to maintain the tie score.

It wasn't until the 86th minute that Worcester had the go-ahead goal. Nikki DiPilla wrapped the ball around her defender and passed the ball ahead to Howland who beat her defender and fired the ball in the net for the 2-1 score.

For Howland, winning this finals match, especially in such dramatic fashion, was a great way to bounce back after losing in the finals last season. It was also a great finish to a season that had been difficult at the start.

"Winning in the finals was a great feeling, where last year we lost 1-0 in the finals on our home field so that was upsetting," Howland said. "Also, we tied Bridgewater during this season so being able to come out with a win and remain undefeated in the league is an awesome feeling."

"Starting out the season with a 1-4 record made us all feel slightly defeated since our past two seasons had been so successful. However, we turned the season around completely and proved that we were still a great team."

"It's a great feeling to be a part of a team who can turn around a not so great start of the season and come out and prove people wrong."

For Spinos, who has played in 16 games, starting 14 of them in her freshman season, her first collegiate season could not have gone any better to this point.

"I'm so excited we are moving on! As a freshman it's an awesome experience being able to win the championship and move on to the NCAA's" Spinos said. "I'm excited to play teams we've never played, and hopefully go as far as we can."

Wildcats take several steps back with loss to to Spy Ponders

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
ARLINGTON - Two weeks ago, the Wilmington High Football team played one of their better games of the season in defeating Arlington Catholic in their first non-playoff game, and while the win didn't mean a whole lot in terms of standings, or anything of that nature, it seemed to be an indication that the Wildcats may be primed to build on that win and put together a strong finish to what has been a tough season.

Unfortunately for the Wildcats, however, rather than taking another step forward, they instead took a giant step back last Friday night, playing one of their poorer games of the season, and dropping an 18-13 decision to previously winless Arlington High School at Pierce Field in another non-playoff qualifier dropping their record to 2-7 on the season.

"It was very disappointing," Wilmington coach Mike Barry said. "I don't think we had a great week of preparation and I think it showed early in the game. We made some plays and we played hard, but overall our team effort and everything else just wasn't where we needed it to be."

As has been the case on several occasions this season, the Wildcats fell victim to several big plays which ultimately doomed the team to defeat, starting in the first quarter, when Arlington took advantage of a Wildcat fumble on the opening kickoff and then an interception on Wilmington's first drive to jump out to a quick lead on a 32-yard touchdown pass from sophomore quarterback Adam Bowler to junior Adam Elyounssi for a 6-0 lead with 3:55 left in the opening quarter after the extra point was blocked.

The Wildcats responded to that score with their best drive of the game, marching 65 yards in eight plays to take their first lead of the game. Sophomore running back Peter Marino, fresh off a tremendous performance in the win over AC, did the bulk of the work on the drive, picking up chunks of yardage on runs of 11 and 14 yards, and sophomore quarterback Andrew Sullivan hooked up with senior receiver Brandon Belmonte for a ten yard gain for another big play on the drive.

One play after the Belmonte catch, Marino got the Wildcats on the board with a 34-yard touchdown run. Sophomore Adam Bishop's extra point kick gave the Wildcats a 7-6 lead with 9:23 left in the half.

Arlington would have a fine response of their own, however, going on a methodical 13-play, 56-yard drive to regain the lead when Bowler hooked up with Cully Curran for an 11-yard touchdown pass with 2:51 left in the half for a 12-7 lead after the two point conversion pass failed.

While the Wildcats went to the half trailing, they had actually played very well defensively, led by outstanding efforts from senior defensive tackle Dave Woods along with junior linebackers Tyler Roberts and Marken Nerestant, as they limited to Arlington to ten yards rushing in the first half.

"We struggled covering their receivers and we couldn't get much of a pass rush, so we started blitzing a lot and we ended up in some man coverage and that hurt us a bit," Barry said. "Defensively we felt like we could stop the run and we did a good job of that."

The defensive struggle continued in the second half, with mistakes continuing to haunt the Wildcats as they lost their second fumble of the game early in the half. Arlington was unable to take advantage of the turnover however, as consecutive pass breakups on third and fourth down by Marino and Justin Fraser returned the ball to the Wildcats.

The Wildcats looked to take advantage of the defensive efforts on the ensuing possession, moving from their 36-yard line to the all the way to the Arlington five behind the running of junior Tom Robarge (22 carries, 103 yards), but the drive stalled there as a fourth and goal pass fell incomplete in the end zone.

The drive did ultimately produce points, however, as two plays later Nerestant recovered a Spy Ponders fumble to give the Wildcats the ball on the Arlington six yard line. On the very next play, Robarge ran it in to give the Wildcats a 13-12 lead after the failed two point conversion with 10:01 left in the game.

The lead was short lived however, as on their next play from scrimmage, the Spy Ponders responded with another big play to break the backs of the Wildcats, with a 52-yard pass from Bowler to Michael Doherty with 9:43 left in the game to make the score 18-13 after another failed extra point rush.

The Wildcats were unable to mount any sort of comeback in the closing minutes of the game, seeing a last ditch effort fall short when Arlington came up with their second interception of the game with 1:50 left in the game.

The Wildcats will look to rebound on Friday night when they host non-league rival Bedford at Alumni field at 6:00 pm. Despite the tough outing against Wilmington High running back Tom Robarge rushed for 103 yards in the team's loss to Arlington on Friday night. (courtesy photo).

Arlington, Barry is confident his team has what it takes to improve this week.

"We're back to basics, and getting back to having our work ethic and concentrating on doing all of the little things right," Barry said. "That is our message from here on in and that is what we are going to do. If we don't do that we are going to have another tough game, but this is very doable. We can bounce back and play better than this."

WHS Girls Soccer falls in first round

Tanners come away with an upset victory

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

jamiepote@hotmail.com
WILMINGTON - The beauty of high school sports is you really never know what to expect on any given game. Expectations, experience, records, seedings, all of that never matters whether it's a regular season game, a state tournament opener or a state championship game. A lucky bounce, a big-time save, an extraordinary performance from an unexpected player, an injury - all of those things can turn a high school game completely around with a blink of an eye.

On Sunday night, the Wilmington High School girls' soccer team had its unbeaten record and No. 1 ranking end rather quickly. The Wildcats were defeated by league rival Woburn, 2-1, in a game that came down to penalty kicks, after the score was still tied through two ten-minute sudden-death overtime periods.

The Wildcats dominated play throughout most of the very physical game. Wilmington missed a few big-time chances to score but at the time seemed to be a little bit out of sync, compared to other games played this season. Yet at the same time, Woburn played exceptionally well, with the bend-not-break-defense which enabled the game to move on to the shoot-out and that's when the Tanners emerged scoring five goals compared to four from the 'Cats.

In 2013, the 'Cats reached the state championship final and lost in a shoot-out and over the last three seasons the team has gone unbeaten in the regular season but has gone 2-3 in the tournament, losing in the sectional semifinals in '14 and then in the quarterfinal round last year and again on Sunday.

"You never know what's going to happen especially in the state tournament," said Hendee. "There are teams that (get upset). Seedings mean very little and records don't mean anything. It's show up and play and hope for the best. We are very disappointed."

It's so hard to end it here when you have had such a great season. Soccer is a very fickle game. Who would have thought this summer that the Olympic team would be out before the medal round? It happens at every level, all of the time in every sport. I'm sure there were a bunch of other upsets (on Sunday). The Winchester-Belmont game was a bit of a surprise. It is what it is, but it just shows that the Middlesex League is very tough."

Woburn got on the scoreboard first before Wilmington came right back as senior captain Cece Chase tied it up. The score remained that way through regulation. Senior Jayne Wierzbicki - who played exceptionally well in this game and all season - had two long shots that were saved, and then in overtime, junior forward Olivia Wingate had a slight edge on a defender who was right on her tail, and Wingate's shot to the far post just missed wide. Besides that, Wilmington really didn't challenge the Tanners' keeper.

"We had lots of opportunities (to score) and we dominated play," said Hendee. "We played well, we played hard and we're not going to take anything away from Woburn. They did what they had to do, they played us tough defensively and they didn't allow a lot to happen in the (18') yard box. You know what you're going to get when you play Woburn. They are always going to be tough, they are always going to try to win every 50-50 ball. Since we first played them, I think they have gotten their defense together more and they did a real good job shutting down our attackers."

"We didn't challenge (their keeper) in the most effective way. She is a tall girl, she's good in the air and we needed to hit the ball low to the post and we didn't do that."

The game remained tied through the two overtime periods forcing the shoot-out. Wilmington's keeper Jill Roche, who has improved leaps and bounds from the start of the season until now, was put in a very tough spot, just like the previous WHS Goalies were in a handful of other games that came down to the shoot-out.

Above, WHS senior forward Cece Chase, who scored the team's lone goal, works with the ball in the Woburn territory and below defender Liz Gordon battles for a 50-50 ball. Woburn pulled out the upset, 2-1 win in a game decided by penalty kicks. (Photos by JoeBrownphotos.com).

"We practice penalty kicks a lot and I thought they executed them very well," said Hendee. "We don't expect keepers to make saves during a shoot-out. The shooters certainly have the big advantage. I went to the Belmont-Winchester game (on Saturday) and there were so many misses. I was very proud of the way all of the girls who participated in the shoot-out handled themselves."

Dana Goulet, Stephanie Figueiredo, Kayla McCauley and Wingate all scored in the shoot-out.

The loss also ends the career of a large group of outstanding seniors including tri-captains Cece Chase, Kayla McCauley and Julianna Iocco, as well as Figueiredo, Nadia Barletta, Madison Knibbs, Heather Niemiec, Jayne Wierzbicki and Shannon Horgan.

Wilmington will however, return a solid nucleus of players including Wingate, Goulet and defenders Thea Aliberti, Liz Gordon and keeper Jill Roche, among others.

Ryan helps Greyhounds finish second at Regional Cross-Country Meet

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
Assumption College sophomore Jacqueline Ryan helped lead the Greyhounds to a second place finish at the NCAA Division II East Regional Saturday morning at Hopkinton State Fairgrounds, finishing the 6k course in a time of 23:03.2, which was good enough for a 28th place finish in a field of 191 runners.

Ryan was rewarded for her tremendous efforts at the meet, and all season long, by being selected to the Northeast-10 All-Conference team. Ryan and her teammates will now head to the NCAA Division 2 Championships being held in Tampa, Florida on November 19.

Wheelock College freshman Conor Bailey earned a 24th place finish at the New England College Conference Championship on Saturday at Stanley Park in Westfield, finishing the 8k course in a time of 33:11.12.

Bentley University senior Erik Alatalo helped lead the Falcons to a third place finish in the NCAA Division II East Regional Saturday morning at Hopkinton State Fairgrounds, finishing in 28th place in a field of 169 runners competing on the 6k course in a time of 32:39.4.

As a result of their third place finish, the Falcons are headed for the NCAA Division 2 Championships. This year's event will be held Nov. 19 in Saint Leo, Fla.

SOCCER

The third-seeded Ithaca College women's soccer team fell in overtime to nationally-ranked and top-seeded Stevens Institute of Technology, 3-2, on Saturday in the title game of the 2016 Empire 8 Championship at the De Baun Athletic Complex in Hoboken, N.J.

The game marked the end of the great career of senior forward Holly Niemiec, who in her time at Ithaca helped lead the Bombers to three NCAA Tournament appearances and an overall record of 58-17-5.

Niemiec finishes her career with a total of 14 goals and 26 assists for 54 points, with her assist total tying her for third all time in program history. She was also selected to the Empire 8's All-Conference team on two occasions, with the team not yet being selected for this season.

Plymouth State junior defender Adrianna Kippenberger scored in the sixth round of penalty kicks to give the Panthers a dramatic 1-0 victory over UMass Dartmouth last Tuesday afternoon in the quarterfinals of the Little East Conference Tournament, advancing the Panthers to the semi-finals of the tournament for the first time since 2001.

The teams had played to a scoreless tie through regulation and two overtime periods, and were deadlocked at 3-3 on penalty kicks before Kippenberger's heroics.

The Panthers went on to drop a hard fought 2-1 decision to top seeded Eastern Connecticut in the semi-finals, ending their season with a record of 9-6-3.

Westfield State University junior Kory McGilvary was named to the 2016 Massachusetts State Collegiate Athletic Conference men's soccer all-conference team.

McGilvary, a defender and a free kick specialist for the Owls finished the campaign with five assists. He logged 1,378 minutes on the pitch, more than any other member of the team. The only member of the Owls to be named to the All-MASCAC team, he was chosen to the circuit's second-team.

Westfield State finished the season with an 8-7-2 overall record and a 2-3-1 mark in the MASCAC.

Worcester State sophomore midfielder Ryan Kinsella and the rest of the Lancers captured the MASCAC Tournament championship with a 4-2 victory over Fitchburg State on Sunday at John Coughlin Field.

With the win, the Lancers earned their first conference championship since 2005 and earned a trip to the NCAA Division 3 championships, beginning on Friday against Daniel Webster.

Kinsella is having a fine freshman, playing in 16 games for the Lancers, starting ten of them, including all three games of the MASCAC Tournament.

FIELD HOCKEY

After pulling off a huge upset win in the quarterfinal round of the Little East Conference Tournament with a 3-1 win over No. 2 seed Worcester State last week, Bridgewater State senior junior defender Katherine McKenna and her Bears teammates saw their season come to an end with a 3-0 loss to Southern Maine in the semi-finals last Wednesday, closing out their season with an 11-7 record, with McKenna playing in 17 of the team's 18 games and was named to the LEC all-conference third team.

VOLLEYBALL

UMass Lowell senior Lauren Bennett had five kills, five blocks and one dig during the River Hawks 3-1 loss to Sacred Heart on Sunday. The 6-20 River Hawks gave 19-7 Sacred Heart all they could handle, losing the match by scores of 25-22, 21-25, 25-23, 25-23.

Teams and alumni cheerleaders pay tribute to Deb Smith

By BRENDAN FOLEY

WILMINGTON- A variety of Wilmington cheerleading programs converged on the High School on Monday night for an exposition of their skills and strength.

More than a chance for some of Wilmington's finest young athletes to show off their impressive range of abilities, the Night of Champions gave multiple generations of cheerleaders a chance to show their love and appreciation for Deb Smith, a cornerstone of the town's cheerleading and pop warner programs.

Smith, who began her career with Wilmington pop warner football and cheerleading in 1997, has been publicly fighting inoperable breast cancer for the last few months. Smith has continued to coach her team and work as president of Wilmington Pop Warner, but does so with the knowledge that her illness may take her away from the field at a given moment.

So on Monday night, Wilmington's cheerleaders past and present and a crowd of hundreds poured into the Wilmington gym and danced, clapped and chanted in a dazzling display of the talents that Smith and coaches like her had enabled them with. The gymnasium was stuffed with blue uniforms and splashes of pink, on ribbons, shirts, socks, all over.

The Wilmington Pop Warner flag team, the Shawsheen Tech JV team (coached by Sam Cacciola), the Shawsheen Tech Varsity team (coached by Andrea Bendel), the Wilmington Pop Warner E team (coached by Tricia Fennelly and Jamie O'Connell), the Wilmington Pop Warner C team (coached by Alyssa Tierno and Barbara Lee Cooney), and the Wilmington High School Varsity team (coached by Amanda and Joanne Beddia) all wowed the crowd with high-flying stunts and dazzling tumblers.

Smith's own squad, the Wilmington Pop Warner A team, provided the climax for the evening. With Lauren Parisi and Christina Zuccaro also coaching the team, the girls dazzled the audience with a wild showcase performance. Tumbles built into stunts, with the large team pulling off incredible close-quarters choreography.

But as terrific as all the young performers were throughout the night, the main event was the closing performance by the so-called Washed Up Wildcats. Formed by alumni from teams over the years, including numerous members from the 1999 team that clinched the town's first national cheerleading title, dozens of former cheerleaders took a triumphant victory lap on the mat.

"These girls are back together because they want to show Debbie they still got it!" event emcee Megan Sullivan declared to the crowd.

Smith had a front row seat on the steps of the bleachers as her former charges flipped, danced and flew just like in the old days.

"It was overwhelming," Smith said. "It felt great. I knew they were getting together, but I didn't know it would be that many of them."

Andrea Bendel, Kristen Cabral, Cacey Cafua, Bianca Carlson, Kristie Cavanaugh, Brittany Collins, Kathryn Cormier, Lindsay Dacko, Riley, Kristin Day, Ashley Kelleher, Caitlin DiVincenzo, Miranda Faison, Trish Fennelly, Jacquelyn Fonseca, Michelle Forester, Alicia Forester, McKayla Hersom, Taylor Higgins, Janelle Jackson, Michelle Luongo, Charisse Marchesi-Smith, Stephanie Mazzie, Kelly McGowan, Shannon McHugh, Nicole Minghella French, Jamie O'Connell, Danielle O'Connell, Lauren Parisi, Catherine Parrella, Lauren Powers, Danielle Rae, Kayla Reynolds, Allie Silva, Maria Sorrentino, Amanda Sprague, Shayna Sullivan, Nikki Sullivan, Vicky Tanzella, Marianna Tassone, Megan Torres, Danielle Underwood, Jackie Welch, Julie Welch, Brittani Winn, Maddie Young, and Christina Zuccaro all proudly strutted out to the mat in their "Property of Deb Smith" t-shirts and put on a remarkable number.

"I was wicked nervous because now I'm afraid of heights," laughed Nikki Sullivan. Sullivan started with Wilmington Pop Warner in 1997 and finished in 2003. But now, 13 years later, she went right back and flew again.

"I think it was important to let Debbie know that what she did, it did matter and it made a big impact on their lives and it is something that they will always remember," said Megan Sullivan, herself on alum of the Wilmington Pop Warner program.

After the performance, the gymnasium became filled with laughter, hugs, pictures and flowers, cheerleaders of every age and size celebrating together, with Deb Smith at the center of it all.

"Who would have ever thought?" Smith said.

Rams edge out Indians in terrific battle

shawsheen@yourtowncrier.com
BILLERICA - It would have been no surprise if the Shawsheen Tech Football team had suffered a letdown on Saturday night, one week after being eliminated from the Division 3A playoffs with a blowout loss to Stoneham. The same, of course could have been said for their opponents on Saturday night, as Amesbury entered the game on the heels of a blowout loss of their own, to Bishop Fenwick in their first round playoff game last week.

Rather than a letdown by both teams, however, fans were instead treated to a fantastic high school football game. With nothing to play for on either side but pride, both teams showed plenty of it, with the Rams coming out on top with a 28-26 victory at Cassidy Field.

"This was a great game. Both teams played their hearts out," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "This was a great high school football game. I'm proud of our guys. I am proud of their resiliency, and my hat's off to Amesbury. They are a well coached team and they came to play. "This feels great for our kids (after last week's loss)"

Costabile said. "That's the great thing about this game of football, that you can come back the next week and do it again. You are only as good as your last game and right now we are feeling good about ourselves again."

The Rams were led by 115 yards rushing and two touchdowns from senior running back Craig Rich and 103 yards passing and two more touchdowns from junior quarterback Cody Sughrue of Tewksbury, both to senior Sean Hines, as they improved to 7-2 on the season. Amesbury meanwhile dropped to 2-7.

It was a hard fought game throughout, with the early moments of the game looking like neither team's offense would ever be stopped, before it settled into more of a defensive struggle the rest of the way.

Amesbury got things started immediately after taking the opening kickoff, going on a 13-play, 65-yard drive capped by a five yard run by Zach Prentiss, before Shawsheen responded with a long drive of their own, moving 60 yards on nine plays before Rich scored his first touchdown of the game from five yards out with 8:06 left in the half.

In what would become the story of the game, however, Amesbury was stuffed on their two point conversion rush while Rich drilled the first of his four extra points to give Shawsheen a 7-6 lead.

"You have to give a lot of credit to our defense, for the job they did on conversions," Costabile said. "That was the difference in the game, and that says a lot about our defense that they were able to pick themselves up after a score and buckle down and stop the conversions. If they hadn't the game would have been different."

While the first Amesbury drive had been methodical, picking up small chunks of yardage on the ground before hitting paydirt, their second score took no time at all, as they needed just three plays to respond before quarterback Blake Bennett connected with Kyle Martin for a 59-yard touchdown pass and a 12-7 lead.

The Rams needed just four plays of their own to respond, with Sughrue connecting with Hines for a 36-yard score with 4:27 left in the half for a 14-12 lead that the Rams would eventually take into the half.

Shawsheen would extend their lead to 21-12 with 59 seconds left in the third quarter on a 38-yard pass from Sughrue to Hines, a sensational play in which Hines out leapt three defenders to come down with the catch at the ten yard line, and then broke the tackles of several more defenders on his way to the end zone.

"That was one of the greatest plays I've ever seen, without a doubt," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "I've been coaching for 29 years now and that was one of the greatest plays I've ever seen. It was just an absolute beast of an effort."

Still, however, the Rams could not shake the Indians, as Amesbury closed to within 21-18 on the ensuing possession with Derreck Obika coring on a 14-yard run 8:35 left in the game.

Needing to come up with a big drive to close out the game, the Rams turned to their most dependable player, and he did just that, as Rich ran the ball on five of the six plays on the ensuing Shawsheen possession, and finally capped the drive with a 12-yard run up the middle for a 28-18 lead with 5:25 left in the game.

"Craig Rich ran so hard, he really did," Costabile said. "And he picked up some tough yards, running tackle to tackle. We had the occasional sweep, but it was mostly tackle to tackle. He was immense. He kept his shoulders low and just kept his feet moving. I also thought we blocked really well tonight."

Amesbury would add one more score with under two minutes left, and finally connect on a two point conversion attempt to account for the 28-26 final after Shawsheen recovered their onside kick attempt.

Volleyball team reaches semi-finals

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

shawsheen@yourtowncrier.com
BILLERICA -- The Shawsheen Tech Volleyball team had faced Mystic Valley twice this season prior to last Friday's quarterfinal match in the MIAA Division 3 North Tournament, and twice they had gone down to defeat, once in four sets, and once in five sets.

The Lady Rams had clearly shown the ability to match up well against their talented CAC rivals, but they had not been able to get into the win column. But on Friday night, when it mattered most, No. 5 Shawsheen was able to dig just a little deeper, and earn a thrilling come from behind victory over No. 4 Mystic by a score of 3-1 (19-25, 25-21, 25-22, 25-17).

With the win, the Lady Rams (16-4) earned themselves a spot in the sectional semi-finals where they were set to take on undefeated (21-0) Notre Dame Academy on Wednesday night as the Town Crier was going to press. Mystic, meanwhile finished their season with a record of 16-5.

"They had beaten us twice, but we felt pretty confident going in," Shawsheen coach Chet Flynn said. "I also think our loss to Greater New Bedford (in last week's vocational tournament) helped our confidence. They were a very good team, and we felt like we had played well against them could continue to play like that in the tournament."

As had been the case in the first two matchups between these two teams Friday's tilt was a very well played match by both squads, with a four set match lasting just under two hours.

"It was a very competitive match," Flynn said. "I thought we showed a lot of resilience, and there were a lot of great volleys throughout the match and the girls were all over the floor making plays. They were still sore at practice on Monday."

There were several stars for the Lady Rams in their victory, but none bigger than senior setter Katie Welch, who chipped in with 23 assists, and fellow senior Ashley Fahey, who had six kills.

"Katie was the difference in the match," Flynn said. "She was all over the court. She was taking balls off the net, and just making play all over the court. She played tremendous defense for us. Ashley's kills really made a big difference for us as well. She played a great match."

The road only gets more difficult from here for Shawsheen, who had Notre Dame next on their schedule as they attempted to hand the Lancers their first loss of the season. Like Mystic Valley, the Lady Rams have faced Notre Dame twice and lost both times, only the matches have not been as close, as they have lost each match in three straight sets.

That is not unusual at all for Notre Dame opponents this season, as they have won the large majority of their matches by 3-0 scores, but Flynn is hoping his team can turn the tide this time around.

"They've handled us pretty well this season," Flynn said. "They are a very good team, but the one thing we can't do is be nervous against them. You can sometimes give them too much respect and you end up getting intimidated. We now we will need out best effort if we are going to beat them, so we have to focus more on what we do well, and not worry about what they are doing."

Pee Wee 3's score seven goals to beat North Andover on the ice

The Wilmington Wildcats Pee Wee 3 Hockey team found themselves down by two goals after the first period of play in a Saturday evening game against North Andover at Kasabuski in Saugus, but they dominated the final two periods of the game and came away with a 7-3 victory over the Knights.

Entering the second period trailing 1-0, the Wildcats came out flying, and just three minutes in, Bobby Dodge would get the Cats on the board after receiving a nice pass from Alex Burns, beating the Knights goalie with a hard wrist shot glove side to pull the Wildcats within 2-1. Moments later, some strong play from the line of Mike Maselli, Srikar Mallajosyula, and Nicholas Spencer led to a great goal from Maselli, who continues to be a force, tying the game at 2-2.

The defensive quartet of Will LaMonica, Aadarssh Sivakumar, Paige Fuller, and Matt Mozuch combined with some fantastic goal-tending from Thomas Dalton, continued to shut down the Knights attempts to score, and then with just a couple of minutes left in the period Dodge would find Burns who buried the puck for the go ahead goal.

Wilmington took the 3-2 lead into the third, and early in the period, Burns put in his second of the game on a good shot on net that deflected in off a Knights stick to make the score 4-2. The Wildcats continued to carry the play, keeping possession in the offensive end, and Fuller made a nice pass up the boards to Lexi Engvaldsen who then fed a sweet pass out front to Dylan Mullarky who made no mistake finding the back of the net to extend the Wildcats lead to three at 5-2.

North Andover was able to get one goal back, but after that Dalton said "good Knight", not allowing another goal for the rest of the game. Following the North Andover goal, the Wildcats got back on the board with some great hustle by Tyler Sheehan, who passed to Dodge who patiently put a pass on the stick of Burns. Alex went upstairs earning himself the hat trick and extending the lead to 6-3.

The Cats were not done. Mozuch, holding the blue line, kept the puck in to Brett Gallucci who fed a nice pass to Mullarky. Dylan closed out the scoring for the Wildcats with his second of the night with a quick shot along the ice beating the Knights goalie, capping off an impressive come from behind victory.

Pair of Pop Warner Football teams defeated in playoff round

Dylan Burpee, Patrick McNally, and Owen Cushing "We were in it for the entire game, we just came up a little short today," McCauley said.

heartbreaking as it was to lose, the team can take comfort in their strong season.

"I have a really good group of athletes," McCauley. "They're really worked hard and they worked good together. Twelve kids have been playing together since they were six and seven years old, and now they're going on twelve. You're not going to win every game. We know it, it's why people play sports."

The B team had a similarly tough day with their 33-12 loss to Reading. Last year, the team progressed all the way to the championship before being defeated, making this first-round loss a difficult one. The Wildcats finish the season 4-5.

It was a tough season all around, with a number of obstacles for the Wildcats to overcome.

"We beat Reading in the regular season 6-0," head coach Dickie Hersom said. "We were dealing with a bunch of injuries. Our numbers are low. We lost a key defensive linebacker. But the team did the best they could."

Diondre Turner and Adam LeBlanc notched touchdowns for the team.

Turner and Marcello Misuraca split time as quarterback for the team.

"They did the best they could," Hersom said. "They had very few breaks with a small team."

This year's team was formed by Peter Diadamo,

Michael Lee, Shane Roberts, Jack Rooney, Jake Warford, Aaron Dancewicz, Gavin Erickson, Dylan Timmons, Michael Hersom, Hugh Murphy, John Rhind, Ian McDonald, Andrew Castelli, Justin Aberle, and Nathan Ford.

"They all did well on the defensive end," Hersom said. "We played good defense for pretty much the whole game."

Despite the disappointing outcome for the season, there is still much for Hersom and his team to take pride in.

"We had low numbers and we lost a key player early on," Hersom said. "The strength of our team was our defense. I think this [Reading game] was the most points we had scored against us in the season."

Galaxy and Fire battle on the soccer field

Boys Grade 2 games:
LA Galaxy
vs. Chicago Fire

The Chicago Fire was also impressive on the offensive side of the ball with great skill being displayed by Jack Cronin, Collin Holman and Ben Harris leading to goals by Jack Morin, Jake Arsenault, and Jonathan Malley.

The defense showcased their skills today with Richard Holland, Carter Callis, and Aiden Harris keeping the ball out of their zone for much of the game; while the goal keeping team of Jack Cronin and Ben Harris made this game close.

NE England Revolution vs. DC United

The DC United offense frustrated throughout the game. Alternating and showing strong efforts from a goalkeeping line-up featuring stars such as Zach Atwater, Ian Heos and Nate Anderson proved they are always a tough team to deal with. Impressive footwork by Cameron Molina, Preston Hunt and Aiden O'Hearn kept pressuring the D.C. defensive only to come up short time after time.

The Revolution were missing key players but expects to have a full complement at the next match-up as their season comes to a close versus a tough Chicago Fire.

Girls Grade 2 games:

Boston Breakers vs.
Portland Thorns

The air was full of excitement, as the much-anticipated match between Boston Breakers and Portland Thorns commenced. Fantastic ball skills were displayed by Madison Forbush, Anna Heipli, Charlotte Kiley, Hailey Reguera, Claire Connelly resulting in goals by Alliana Pilcher, Abigail Engvaldsen, Megan Smith, Emma Nolan, Elisabeth Gillis.

The midfield and defensive play of Molly Guyette, Mia Barresi, Leah Hanafin, Katlyn Costello kept the Boston Breakers in excellent shape.

Boys Grade 1 games:

DC United vs. Chicago Fire
The crowd was kept on the edge of their seats this week as the DC United, led by the offensive skills of Jake Gryglik and Brady Cassidy resulted in scoring opportunities by Mark Cataldo, Griffin Crowe and Bijon Pourshadi.

The defense was not to be left out of this one either as Jackson Cipolle and Arnav Dwivedi and kept the ball out of their zone for much of the game.
